CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

Midnight Praise

Worshiping before breakthrough.

Acts 16:25

Loretta "Lolo" Hall

Welcome

Hello, and welcome.

Before you read another word, take a breath and invite God into this moment with you. This chapter - "Midnight Praise" - is not just something to read; it is a place to meet Him.

Come with an open heart. Let Him speak to the very thing you are carrying today.

With love and faith,

Lolo

Key Scripture

"And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them."

Acts 16:25

Why this scripture matters: This is the promise beneath "Midnight Praise." Let it anchor you as you read - worshiping before breakthrough.

Chapter Story - My Testimony

Some of my greatest victories began when I chose to worship before I saw the breakthrough.

Reflection

- What is God saying to me?

- What fear do I need to release?

- What promise do I need to believe?

- What step of faith am I being asked to take?

Prayer

Father, even at midnight I will praise You. Before I see the answer, I lift my voice in faith. Shake the prison, open the doors, and loose every chain as I worship. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Declaration

"I declare I praise before my breakthrough."

"I declare my midnight praise breaks chains."

"I declare worship shifts the atmosphere."

"I declare doors are opening."

"I declare I am coming out."

Action Steps

- Read Acts 16:25 out loud every morning this week.
- Pray for someone walking through a similar season.
- Journal what "Midnight Praise" stirs in your heart.
- Worship for 15 minutes with open hands.
- Take one step of faith this week.

Closing Blessing

"May the God who called you upon the waters strengthen your faith, calm every storm before you, and remind you that His hand has never left yours. Continue to walk in faith, knowing that He who began a good work in you will carry it to completion."
